RISE Membership Pledge

The rent in Fremont is too high! The average rent for a 2-bedroom apartment in the city is more than $2,500. Forty two percent of renters pay more than 30% of their income on rent, making their families cost-burdened. It's time to speak out against skyrocketing rents and unfair evictions in Fremont.

Residents Insisting on Social Equity (RISE) is a coalition of community groups, faith congregations, cultural workers, and residents fighting to make sure Fremont is an affordable and inclusive community for everyone. We are united to make sure that new development/redevelopment results in benefits - not displacement - for Fremont.

Since getting together, we have negotiated an enforceable community-developer agreement as part of the Warm Springs BART transit expansion; testified at city council meetings on the importance of community-centered rent stabilization, anti-harassment, and just cause for eviction policies to protect Fremont and Union City tenants; grown a grassroots base of powerful leaders in South Alameda County; and engaged in important political discussions so that decisions are made by us, not for us. Join us in this important movement for equity!

Our meetings are the third Wednesday of every month. For more information, email us at risefremont@gmail.com and visit our Facebook page (RISE Coalition).
